

ENGLISH-ECKLES

NUPTIALS SOLEMNIZED

WEDNESDAY AT HIGH NOON AT THE BRIDE'S HOME AT LONG GROVE, KY.

Friends in Frankfort are in receipt of the following handsomely engraved announcement cards:

Mr. Laura E. English
announces the marriage of her daughter
Elizabeth

to

Mr. Paul Eckles

on Wednesday, February twenty-sixth one thousand nine hundred and eight
Long Grove, Kentucky

At Home

after March fifteenth
Crawley, La.

One of the prettiest home weddings of the winter season was solemnized Wednesday at high noon, when Miss Elizabeth English, of Hardin county, and Mr. Paul Eckles, of Crawley, Louisiana, were united in marriage, at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. Laura E. English, of Long Grove, Ky. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Jno Devine, of Cecilian, who is the bride's pastor.

The handsome and spacious country home of Mrs. English was profusely decorated in brides roses, ferns and smilax. Miss English is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Laura E. English, and is one of Hardin county's most beautiful and highly accomplished young ladies. She is quite well known here, where she frequently visits, as the guest of her aunt, Mrs. Ernest W. Gullion.

Mr. Eckles is a prominent young business man, of Crawley, where he conducts a drug store.

Following the ceremony an elegant course dinner was served by Benedict, of Louisville, and later in the afternoon Mr. and Mrs. Eckles left for Louisville, where they will spend a week as guests at the Seelbach before going to their future home at Crawley, Louisiana.

WAREHOUSE

BURNED AT SWITZER.

FIRE OF UNKNOWN ORIGIN ON THURSDAY MORN CAUSES
HEAVY LOSS.

The tobacco warehouse of Head and Switzer, independent buyers at Switzer, six miles east of this city on the line of the Frankfort and Cincinnati Railway, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour Thursday morning, with its contents, some 50,000 pounds of unpoled tobacco. The loss is estimated at $12,000, with about $6,500 insurance.

The fire was first discovered by J. H. Switzer who does not live far from the warehouse. It was too far spread to attempt to get it under control. The other member of the firm is Ben D. Head, and he was not aware that the warehouse and its contents had been destroyed until after arising Thursday morning. As there have been many barns in the State this winter set fire to by "night" riders, as soon as it was learned that the barn was destroyed containing unpoled tobacco the destruction of the barn was naturally laid on the "night riders." The opinion as to the cause of the fire however is equally divided by the people who live in the Switzer neighborhood.

KENTUCKIAN

To Serve the Unexpired Term of Governor Toole, of Montana.

Another Kentuckian is rapidly coming to the front—or has already come. Governor Toole, who is serving the fourth term as Governor of Montana, on account of bad health, has resigned that office, his resignation to take effect April 1. Lieutenant Governor Edwin Norris will serve out the unexpired term. Governor Norris is a brother of A. G. Norris, the well known traveling salesman for the Belknap Hardware Company, of Louisville, and was born in Cumberland county forty-two years ago. He went to Montana about eighteen years ago and began the practice of law and has had several honors bestowed upon him. Mr. A. G. Norris, the brother of the Governor, has been making Frankfort in the interest of The Belknap Company for many years, and is a popular and well known gentleman, and his friends here congratulate him on his brother's success.

LATE ODGL

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS

ENTERTAINED THURSDAY
EVENING BY CLAY LODGE
SAILLES.

Quite a large number of members of Dexter Lodge of Pythias, entertained on Thursday evening at the Versailles where they of honor at a delightful smoker given by Clay Lodge. This visit was the one made here by a large delegation from the lodge.

Hon. W. C. Marshall acted as master of the banquet of three of the eloquent sons responding to toasts. They were H. Crockett, Hon. R. B. Franklin, Mr. Lee Owen. The local delegation declared on their return that the fair had been a most pleasant one. Among those who made the trip were:

Messrs. J. W. Jeffers, O. N. Smith, Lee A. Owen, W. C. Marshall, Elwood Hamilton, James Eggleston, Charles Lane, Jas. T. Buford, Wm. Cromwell, Jack Fuss, W. A. Howard, T. Hiter Crockett, M. N. Coffey, Edgar Lewis, Wm. S. Polsgrove, B. J. Williams, E. M. Horton, W. H. Watts, Jesse Gullion, W. T. DeWitt, Edw. Pierce, James Love and Thos. P. Brown.

FIGHT.

Republicans freely and let them make any motions they saw fit, but they fought futilely, for W. F. Klair, of Lexington, outgeneraled both the Democrats and Republicans and through a loophole left by George Wilson adjourned the House before anything had been done. The county unit people were fighting for an afternoon session to have a report on the county unit bill, while the Republicans wanted an afternoon session to consider the contest cases. They also agreed to allow the county unit bill to come up after the contest cases had been settled, but Mr. Klair beat them both. It was a parliamentary battle in which Mr. Klair, by being wide awake and knowing parliamentary laws, won out with nobody to help him.

Mr. Wilson had moved that the session be continued until the matter under discussion was disposed of. This was carried. Later Mr. Klair moved to reconsider the vote by which the motion to extend the session was adopted. This motion to reconsider held in abeyance the motion to extend the session and made it in effect null and void, for the time. After several dilatory motions, Mr. Klair moved to adjourn and called for the yeas and noes to consume time. When the result was announced he indicated the hour of adjournment and the House was adjourned by the Speaker, who had nothing else to do, under the rules. Mr. Klair had taken advantage of a slip made by the county unit supporters and stopped the discussion.

The Republicans again made a fight, on Thursday, to get their contest cases reported, but were ruled out of order by the Speaker who refused to allow an appeal to the House from his ruling. He had been overruled by the House just a short time before on another motion, which he had declared out of order. The Republicans had no recourse and had to take their medicine.

"Windy Bill" Thompson, the member from Bullitt and Spencer, who is a keen-witted and smooth-tongued man, made a speech explaining his vote on the county unit bill, when it was put on its passage, and he appealed to the large crowd present. He said he had been reared by a father who had spent all his money on whisky, and as Mr. Thompson put it:

"I was put behind a plow and into the tobacco patch when I should have been at school, getting that education which I now so greatly need. That is why I am against the sale of liquor, and I little thought when I was a poor boy that I would ever have a chance to stand in the legislative halls and cast my vote against the sale of the stuff."

The House has not had a call of the committees for two weeks, and nothing has been done in that time but wrangle over the county unit bill and the contest cases. An effort was made to have afternoon sessions but the motions were voted down. Now the fight on the county unit bill has begun in the Senate, where on Thursday, an effort was made to have the Religion and Morals Committee make its report on the bill. The Senate adjourned while this was being discussed, but the fight will come up in the Senate again soon.

DETECTIVES

FROM OHIO REFORMATORY

ARREST THOS. LONG ON CHARGE
OF HAVING VIOLATED HIS PAROLE.

Although legally discharged from custody by County Judge James H. Polsgrove nearly two months ago, when he was arrested on the charge of violating his parole of the Ohio State Reformatory, Thomas Long, aged eighteen years, of this city, was arrested here Thursday afternoon, handcuffed against his will, placed in a buggy, driven to Kenebec Station, a few miles from this city, put on a train and was started off in company with two detectives for Ohio, to be placed again in the reformatory. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Crutcher on a warrant made by art Crutcher on a warrant legally sworn out after the requisition of Gov. Harris, of Ohio, had been honored by Gov. Willson. After the young man was arrested and turned over to the detective from Ohio, who took charge of him, the party started, it is supposed, for Covington with him.

Attorney Leslie W. Morris, of this city, Thursday night telephoned to the Circuit Judges of Kenton and Campbell county to hold the boy if he is before them for identification, and Morris left for Cincinnati Wednesday to try to locate him. Another legal battle which will likely be equal as spectacular as the one that took place in this city two months ago to gain the land his freedom will likely take place again in Covington, or in any of the border cities in which the lad is held for identification. If the detectives get over to Ohio with the lad, then the decision of Judge Polsgrove will be taken to the Court of Appeals, and if it is upheld a release for the lad will be asked.

Long made a very vigorous protest against his arrest. He is said to have fought the officers until they overpowered him.

ED. WILEY

Touched For His Grip, Which Contained Valuable Papers.

Mr. Ed. Wiley, of Lexington, chairman of the Legislative Committee of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who has been here during the session of the Legislature looking after the interests of the organization, has reported to the police the theft of a fine grip containing valuable papers belonging to the order, a lot of correspondence and legislative proceedings.

THE UGLY WORD.

When a lovely lassie tells you,
As you're sitting by her side,
That a man has never kissed her,
Though a dozen men had tried;
Though you doubt it, be not hasty,
Let your anger be deferred;
Do not qualify the lassie
By that short and ugly word.
When a lovely lassie whispers
That she'll never, never wed;
That she planned to dwell with mother
And to care for her, instead,
Hold your tongue, O, doubting brother,
Many times that tale you've heard
Just remember she's a lady—
Kill that short and ugly word.
When that self-same lassie murmurs
That a secret she will keep,
That she'll tell no living person—
In her heart 'twill ever sleep.
Don't believe her—do not tell her,
Treat her statement as absurd;
But it's not polite to utter
That one short and ugly word.
When a pretty lassie tells you
She can cook, although you know
That her mother's in the kitchen,
With her arms deep in the dough
Doubting brother, be not tactless,
Though the thought may have occurred;
Though you'd like to, still you mustn't
Speak that short and ugly word.

DAIRYMEN

Of Kentucky To Hold Meeting At Shelbyville Next Tuesday.

A call has been issued by the Shelbyville dairymen for a meeting of the dairymen of Kentucky, to be held at the courthouse in Shelbyville next Tuesday morning for the purpose of forming a State Dairymen's Association. It was made necessary on account of the Legislature being in session and it being the desire of those interested that an organization be formed in time to fight any legislation harmful to the interests of the dairymen. Delegates from Spencer, Harrison, Jefferson, Fayette, Hardin and other counties have signified their intention of being present.

MR. HUMPHREYS

Manager Of Gov. Hughes' Presidential Boom, Spends The Day Here.

Manager Humphreys, of New York, who is looking after the Hughes presidential boom, spent Thursday night and Friday here and interviewed a number of Republican State officials. Mr. Humphreys is very sanguine over the prospects of victory of the New York Governor in the coming Republican National Convention at Chicago. While here he had a talk with Gov. Willson.

CHILD LABOR BILL BRINGS BIG DELEGATION TO FRANK-FORT.

The House Committee on Immigration gave a hearing last night to a delegation of manufacturers from over the State, who oppose the Klair Child Labor Bill, which was prepared at the instance of the philanthropic organizations of the State. At the hearing it developed that the principal objection of the manufacturing interests of the State to the measure, the provisions that all children between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years who work in factories must show a certificate that they are over fourteen years of age, such certificates to be issued by the County or City Superintendent of Schools.

The bill also provides that no child employed in any factory or workshop under penalty of a jail sentence, and this is another objection of the manufacturers, who insist that this is entirely too drastic. They say they are perfectly willing that a stiff fine should be imposed if they should violate the law, but as the hiring of employees is in most cases done by subordinates, they should have to stand might banish mab than the ban might be the result of thoughtfulness. An educational qualification is also provided in the bill for all children employed in factories, but this does not become effective for eighteen months.

While the committee delegated further action on the bill to a subcommittee, it is understood that a favorable report will be made to the House, with an amendment attached. The committee will report favorably on the Harris bill providing that eight hours shall constitute a day's work on all public works of the State, and the bill creating the office of Assistant Labor Inspector, to be filled by a woman.

Representative Harris, who is the recognized labor champion of the House, has secured a favorable report from the House Committee on Mines and Mining on his bill regulating the operation of mines to insure further safety for employees.

COAL

To Be Exported From Kentucky To
The Gulf Of Mexico.

Fifty Ohio capitalists are in Uniontown, Ky., looking after their local coal mining interests. These men are interested in building a new coal tipple on the river at Uniontown to be connected by rail with the mines at Bakers, Waverly and possibly Morganfield. It is learned from authority that the scheme of shipping Kentucky coal to the Gulf of Mexico by Ohio river, which was originated first by the late W. P. D. Bush, of Louisville, is about to be realized. Col. Bush was the former owner of thousands of acres of coal property, known as the "Coal Mine Hills."

Mrs. J. H. Price is visiting friends in Worthville, Ky.
